

Contributors

Maddox, John

Having recently completed a Master's program at the University of Georgia, John Maddox currently teaches High School Spanish at Athens Academy in Athens, Georgia, an independent college-preparatory school.

Martínez-Carbajo, Paloma

Dr. Martínez-Carbajo is an Assistant Professor of Spanish at Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Washington. Her scholarly contributions have involved new critical approaches to peninsular Spanish literature, particularly on women writers and marginal voices, as well as on texts related to the Spanish Civil War.

Sweet, Paige

Paige Sweet is a doctoral candidate in Comparative Literature at the University of Minnesota. She is currently writing a dissertation that undertakes a comparative analysis of texts by Emily Dickinson, Marguerite Duras, and Clarice Lispector.

Teixeira de Brito Junior, Bajonas

Dr. Bajonas Teixeira Brito Jr. teaches philosophy in the Department of Philosophy at Universidad de Espírito Santo in Vitória, Brazil. He is the winner of the third Concurso Nacional de Essaios (2000), the most important competition in Brazil, with his essay "Gilberto Freyre e o exorcismo dos fantasmas," an analysis of Casa-Grande & Senzala in which he explores the articulation between the author's unconscious and his work.

Yatsugafu, Rubia

Rubia Yatsugafu is currently a Ph.D. student and Teaching Assistant at the University of Georgia. She studies Brazilian literature and teaches Portuguese classes to graduate students.